

Chapter 16 Using Math in Sales

Section 16.2 Cash Registers

Section Outline with Content and Academic Vocabulary

Section Outline

Cash Registers and Their Main Functions

The Electronic Cash Register

Entering Data into an Electronic Cash Register

Universal Product Codes

Current Trends

Integration of Point-of-Sale Information

Radio Frequency Identification

The Cash Drawer

Cash Drawer Arrangement

Opening Cash Fund

Making Change

Using a POS System

Using a Non-POS System

Sales Tally

Theft and Counterfeiting

New Currency Design

Content Vocabulary

Universal Product Code (UPC) A combination barcode and number used to identify a product and manufacturer that must be on every item sold by the manufacturer. (p. 374)

point-of-sale system A combination of a cash register with a computer, making it possible to capture information about the transaction at the time of sale and apply it to different functions. (p. 379)

till The cash drawer of a cash register. (p. 379)

opening cash fund A limited amount of money in the cash register at the beginning of business. (p. 380)

Academic Vocabulary

automatically In a mechanical manner; by a mechanism. (p. 377)

concentrate To direct one's attention on something. (p. 382)